I am Kathleen Parker, a syndicated columnist with The Washington Post Writers Group.

A website registered through godaddy.com has doctored my column mugshot to create a pornographic image. It is both obscene and a copyright infringement. Among my fans are children, some of whom are my own, who Google me frequently. I am also a frequent subject for school research projects and student papers. They do not need to see such a thing.

I am asking your help in getting this image off the Web as soon as possible.

The website in question is American-Buddha.com and is registered to the "artist," Tara Carreon.

Many thanks,
 Kathleen Parker

American Buddha is also breaking the law by showing pornographic pictures without having a disclaimer up front saying you Agree or Disagree with viewing pornographic content.
